Gigi's path has followed a lifelong pursuit of arts and crafts. She is an accomplished fused glass and flame worked glass artist, wearable art creator, and designer. Her love of the landscape around her is evidenced in her glass designs. This work blends the use of kiln and torch, and of dichroic, and non-coated glass, metals, and frits to create depth, and dreams in glass panels, tiles, beads, and wall hangings. Her glass crafts emerge as a bright, colorful, and fun look at the landscape. A peek into her studio reveals an artist in motion, constantly exploring, always working in the moment.

Gigi holds a B.S. degree in Adult Learning and Teaching from Granite State College. She is a juried member of the League of NH Craftsmen. Her work has been exhibited at Gallery 205 of the League of New Hampshire Craftsmen, the New Hampshire Institute of Art, The Sharon Arts Center, the Maine Maritime Museum, and is found in private collections. Her work is available for sale by contacting the artist, at juried fine art and craft shows in New Hampshire, Maine, and Florida, and at select galleries in New England.

Gigi is known for her landscapes in glass picturing locations from Maine to Alaska, from Florida to Colorado. A display of her work evokes memories of North American road trips. She has also established a line of "jewelry for a cause," called the Slice-Of-Life. Each piece contains a glass slice resembling a slice of watermelon representing hope and happiness. A portion of the proceeds from this line benefit Hospice programs and is devoted to families fighting disease.

Gigi is blessed with wonderful family and friends who support and encourage her to follow her dreams. She and her family live in Henniker, NH, and Phippsburg, ME. She is inspired when outside, and her motto is, "From the Mountains to the Sea, I Create!"
